Task Title: Finding an Affordable Apartment

Step #1

BUDGET

Before setting out to rent an apartment or house, many people will put together a budget so they know how much they will be able to afford for rent.

You are looking for a new place to live. 40% (percent) of your monthly income is often a good measure of what is affordable for your housing if you are on ODSP. Complete this task to find out what monthly rent cost would be affordable.

Task 1: You get $1,200 a month from ODSP and support. Calculate how much you can spend on rent. This amount is your rent budget.

Task 2: Make a budget for a month and figure out how much you think is reasonable for everything:

Category	Monthly Cost
Rent
Food
Transportation
Entertainment
Clothing
TV Cable
Extra Expenses
TOTAL	$1,200.00

With your budget complete, you now know how much you can afford in rent.

Step #2

FINDING AN APARTMENT

Task 3: Use the classified ads from your local newspaper or your local newspaper website to search for 3 apartments that are equal to (=) or less than (≤) the amount you can afford. Decide if you need to have a roommate to get an apartment, discuss this with your instructor.

Task 4: Using a separate piece of paper, make a list for each of the three apartments describing what it is about each apartment that looks good to you. Your list might include:

- the number of bedrooms, and bathrooms
- whether water and electricity are included
- the price
- the location

Task 5: When you are finished with your lists, compare these 3 apartments. Write 3-5 sentences about which apartment you think is the best for you and why.

Task title: Finding an affordable apartment

Answers:

Monthly Budget

Task 1: $480

Task 2: Answers will vary: rent should not exceed $480 and total should not exceed $1200. They will also have to identify if they need to have a roommate to share rent which could double the amount available for rent. Have a discussion about this.

Finding an Apartment

Task 3: Answers will vary: cost of rent should not exceed rent amount determined in section 1. They will also have to identify if they need to have a roommate to share rent which could double the amount available for rent. Have a discussion about this.

Task 4: Answers will vary; should be presented as a comparison list or chart of three apartments for rent.

Task 5: Answers will vary.
